

BIG WEALTH IN NORTH COMING INTO ITS OWN

The Hudson Bay Railway
 "To fulfill our promise to the Dominion minister of railways that the Dominion Railway would be in operating condition by the end of next year, we must complete 84 miles from the present end of steel before December," Mr. Chawski says. The present end of steel is 354 miles from Winnipeg. The Pas which is 842 miles from Winnipeg. From the end of steel to Fort Churchill the distance is 154 miles. "We are not about to quit this work until it is accomplished," he declares. "The road is broken through for the 84 miles and the contractors are busy erecting camps and getting supplies. The road will be open to the north," Major J. L. Charles, who is in charge of the Canadian National railways.

Since there are no means of communication in summer, Stewart and Cameron Ltd., who have the contract for grading the line, are concentrating, during the winter weeks, on the task of bringing in supplies and caching them. Mr. Gzowski pointed out. Before the breakup, at least 1,200 men will have been placed and will be engaged in ditching. After the important work of drainage, comes the building of the embankment. It

"Our big battle is, of course, with the muskeg," said the engineer in discussing the difficulties of railroad-building in northern Alberta. "The Limestone river we are cutting 200 carloads of poles and these will be placed on top of the grade, herring-tion for tipples in the soft places. Instead of burning the timber cleared from the right-of-way all this will be cut and sold for pulp.

Skating will be kept close to the track all the time. There will be two outfits.

Four headquarters camps, more than half the total number to be built, have been erected and others are under way. The contractors are erecting, for the railway, eight engineers' camps as well, three of which have been completed. At Mile 84 the present end of steel they are building for the engineers four headquarters camps of four log buildings. This will be the base for working down the Deer and Churchill rivers for the

that the men will not have to travel more than five miles. To make it easier for them in the summer, 20,000 'duck mate' plank platforms eight feet long, will be put down in the soft places. There is no river transportation here and no timber for

University Notes

LeCercle Français, the French club of the university, which has done so much to promulgate French culture in Edmonton, will wind up a very successful season in Convocation hall, at 6 p.m., next Wednesday, when it will stage a French play, "L'Anglais qui n'est pas" (English as she is spoken). The cast of the play has

The plot is quite simple, and is unoriginal in the extreme. An English girl elopes with a young Frenchman, who is a clerk in a bank. They take rooms in a small hotel in Paris. Hither the girl's father proceeds in quest of her. Then complications arise. An ingenious youth, Eugene, attempts to act as the hotel interpreter, although he knows only

John—He manages to get everyone mixed up until all are well understood. When the cloud is finally cleared away and the father learns that the clerk has been given an interest in the banking house, he consents to allow his daughter to marry her lover.

The Western university, member of the Student Christian Movement, have decided to hold a conference next summer at Jasper park, sending twenty-five delegates from each university. The suggested theme for the study of the conference is, "Present day tendencies in Religion," which will cover the following aspects of the question: "Is the trend of the world today towards Greek paganism,

Students of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia are all enthusiastic over the prospects for the conference. An effort will be made to have some Oriental students in the U. B. C. delegation. In the conference promises to be the outstanding philosophical event in the West.

Equipped with the Cofield

tor Electric Washer in action.

What you see is the action of water when churned into foaming fury by the Coffield Gyrator.

The Coffield tub has a bowl-shaped bottom. The Coffield Gyrator, with the offset blades, set in the bowl-shaped bottom distinguishes the Coffield from all other electric washers.

In the Coffield Gyrator Washer it is water agitation that does the

Gold Seal Wringer

You'll be just as well pleased with the Gold Seal Wringer as with the Coffield Gyrator Washer. It has no gears, needs no oiling, has no belt. The wringer frame is adjustable to any position. It has double draw springs and the wringer reverses. The twelve-inch "balloons" soft enough to absorb dirt will wring a handkerchief or a double blanket and yield to buttons and hooks.

STOCK COMPANY IN NEW PLAY AT PAN PLAYHOUSE

"Treat 'Em Rough" Finds Miss Mento Everett at Her Best

A play of extraordinary interest is promised for patrons of the Gordian Players next week, when the latest comedy from the pens of the well-known dramatists, Frederick and Pansy Hutton, and entitled, "Treat 'Em Rough" will be presented every evening at the Pan Playhouse. The play is a comedy of the Pan Playhouse type, and will be given on Thursday and Saturday. In "Treat 'Em Rough" the Huttons are said to have written the most colorful play of their brilliant careers. It has to do with the humorous Italian quarter of New York's East Side. The hero of the story—played by an actor hired in the Gordian production—is an American-born Italian, a gay young man, who, in the twinkling of an eye, goes from being a poor boy to a rich man. AT EMPRESS MONDAY

JOHN GILBERT FEATURED IN EMPRESS FILM

Two Famous Stars Will Appear in New Picture, "Love"

John Gilbert and Greta Garbo, who as a team scored one of the sensational successes of the year in "Flesh and the Devil," and whose real-life romance immediately following their marriage for film fans the world over, appear again in "Love," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular production of "Anna Karenina." The love picture, one of the most gorgeous and spectacular film productions of the season, presents the love story that perhaps fit them better than any other that could be imagined. Gilbert, splendidly unthrifted, is seen as the brilliant, idealistic Count Vronsky, a role that recalls his great hit in "The Merry Widow," with Miss Garbo in the role of the tragic Anna Karenina. ## Shrine Dinner Dance Attractive Affair On Friday Evening

Many Out-of-Town Guests
Attended Masonic Gathering at Macdonald

The Edmonton Shrine Club annual dinner dance on Friday evening was one of the most attractive of Masonic social affairs in the city. The Shrine Club, which is a branch of the Shrine International, was organized in 1914 and has since that time been a popular social center for the city. The dinner dance was held at the Macdonald hotel and was attended by many out-of-town guests. The Shrine Club is a non-sectarian organization and is open to all men of good character. The club has a large membership and is active in many community projects.

Little Stories For Bedtime

JIMMY HUNK HAS A NARROW ESCAPE
By THOMAS W. B. HENSON

"Whatever shall I do, Mother?" said Jimmy Hunk, looking up at his mother who was sitting on the edge of the bed. "I don't know, Jimmy," she said, "but you must do something. You are in a very bad way."

The long-framed Spanish school-teacher, who had been called in to see Jimmy Hunk, was a man of about 40 years of age. He had a high forehead and a large nose. He was wearing a dark suit and a white shirt. He was sitting on the edge of the bed and looking at Jimmy Hunk.

Long legs are modelled once more after the fashion of the 19th century. It was a case in point. Jimmy Hunk was a young man of about 20 years of age. He was sitting on the edge of the bed and looking at the school-teacher.

MODERN CAR MUST HAVE REAL STYLE

'Distinctiveness of Appearance Necessary in Selling'—W. L. Velie

It is not enough to have a car that is fast and powerful. It must also have a distinctive appearance. A car that is fast and powerful but has no style is like a man who is strong and brave but has no brains. A car that has style is a car that is a pleasure to look at and a pleasure to drive. It is a car that is a work of art and a work of engineering. It is a car that is a masterpiece of design and construction. It is a car that is a masterpiece of style and substance.

"Well, any more questions?" The voice, it was becoming fainter.

"I want to know the man, Jenkins," I latterly said. "I would like to see him."

"I will arrange it," the voice replied, critically evaluating my interest, presently to say, "I will see you tomorrow."

"Cupen—does yer get ber up there," I said.

"There was a faint chuckle then, "More here than here than with you—Berry I must be different!" Jenkins piped up.

"No!" came a faint answer.

"Is that all?" I asked.

"No, I thought it best to refrain from going and inwardly good to Vernon had the term of the day, and I was glad that Jenkins was a dashed good African and I had come to have a real affection for him."

"And so after the voice ceased, Madame Jenkins came out and I was so done."

Richly-Earned Honors

Soldier, there is nothing more sacred than honor. Thus, as night fell, though every man being protested, I led my brigade down the road to Avennes; behind me the remainder of the division. I made a speech, and our people, who rode beside me, attempted at conversation soon ceased at my terse replies. To tell the truth, I was still occupied with seeking, even grave pitfall I felt we were heading for. A small village of Aubin our march was for three hours while the Engineers re-bridge, which had received the attention of a Boche bomber. When the march went on, I rode ahead with Locke at a sharp trot in order to restore some circulation to our files. We must have traveled about two miles when we arrived at a road junction. Instantly we both pulled up our horses. A column, evidently the creation of the traffic jam, was plainly visible. Its leading element was a column of Boches, and

"I ordered, 'ride back to the brigade. Staff captain about the road junction'—and him the necessity of examining so that he will be certain of taking it route. Then rejoin me here as quickly as possible."

Lazek rejoined me a few minutes later, to examine the signpost. "The Avenue is to the left, sir," then with real awe on his face, "Yes, there'll be to pay over this."

"do you make the time now?" I chuckled. "ummm."

"I laughed. "Then at two miles per

"Burgess Bedtime Stories"

Interesting and delightful little stories for the children, by that famous writer, Thornton W. Burgess.

"Believe It Or Not"

Everyone enjoys these intensely interesting sport cartoons by Ripley.
Both are featured every day in
